This is a collection of humorous stories written by a long time resident of North Pole Alaska. His stories bring to mind a time when Alaskans did not have to depend on the outside world to entertain them - when life itself depended on how well you were prepared for the next day; a time when the whole town might only have been able to get one car running on a cold January morning... This book sheds light on the type of people and experiences common in the small community of North Pole a long time ago.
